BRODHEAD.

You no doubt have been wondering, as well as the readers of your paper, what became of your correspondent from this place, therefore I have this explanation to offer. In the first place I wish to say that I was, to some extent, connected with the fair that was pulled off here some four or five weeks ago, and since that time have been assisting the secretary and other officers endeavor to find out exactly how many people attended the fair. After working day and night for several weeks we at last came to the conclusion that it was useless to further the investigation as it was found that the ticket seller ran out of tickets the second day, that the people were so anxious to get thru the gate that he had no time to secure the used tickets from the gatekeepers, and had given orders to admit all with or without the pass word, so all we know is the people were here. The seventeen acres we had provided, thinking this was ample space for Kentucky day at the State Fair, was filled so full that there was not room for a cross-eyed man to "bat his eye." The investigation shows conclusively that the fair with all she had to undergo, being the first attempt under the new name, facing all kinds of opposition, false reports and numerous setbacks, made good and has some to spare. It will be remembered that the first and third days were anything but "fair" days, but we all now realize that had these days been as favorable as the second we would have been busy until this good hour counting our money. After concluding the investigation I waited a few days to see if you were going to say anything, except repeat what I had said, about having a big fair at Brodhead, and now I am ready to report the latest happenings.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Carter were visitors at the State Fair, Thursday. J. W. Tate was in Louisville the first of the week to witness Colonel's defeat the Bearcats. Mrs. C. F. Watson and nephew, Frank Reynolds, are visiting relatives near Lancaster this week. W. H. Sowder recently purchased the property where his store is located from Mrs. Linda Benton for $500. He has taken off the second story and is extending the building some twenty feet and when completed will add much to convenience of the building as a store room. A severe storm several years ago moved this building nearly off the foundation, and left the walls badly out of line, and for that reason Mr. Sowder found it necessary to remove the second story. Born to the wife of Odis Frith, a fine baby, a few days ago. Mrs. John E. Evans and children, of Lexington, are with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Pike. Mrs. R. E. Albright has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tharp, at Junction City, recently. Mr. and Mrs. James Hasty, of Maryville, Mo., and Mrs. George Prewitt, of Liberty, Ky., are with relatives here this week. Mrs. Hasty and Mrs. Prewitt are sisters of Mrs. J. A. Farris and C. C. Debord. It has been some twenty-five years since Mrs. Hasty visited Kentucky. Mrs. H. L. Tharp, and little son, Master Gravelly Farris, were visiting relatives here last week. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hiltot, of Stanford, were with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cass, the first of the week. J. H. Jarrett left Monday for Durango, Colo., where he will likely make his home. Mrs. Jarrett has been in Durango with her daughter for the past several months. Mrs. J. W. Proctor is quite sick, and her recovery is considered very doubtful. Allen Hiatt, of Quail, was in town, Wednesday. The Rockcastle Milling Co. is about ready to start their new plant. The buildings are complete and most of the machinery is said to be in its proper place and only a few connections are to be made, and everything will be in readiness. Wheat is coming in daily, and it seems that there will be no scarcity of it. We predict a successful future for this great flour mill. The Rev. A. J. Pike is holding a series of meetings at the Oak Hill Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. D. Edgar Allen. Miss Gertrude Roberts who has been sick so long is reported gradually improving. Uncle Alex Tyree, John H. Williams and A. J. Sutton are among the distinguished carpenters that are working for the Rockcastle Milling Co. John Riddle, the mill man from Walnut Grove, was in town during the week. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Howell were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parigin, of near Crab Orchard, Sunday. Mrs. J. L. Pilkenton was in Louisville during the week, and attended the State Fair. W. L. King, one of Rockcastle's best farmers, living near Gum Sulphur, was in town Wednesday. R. S. Shivel and B. A. Yaden, who recently formed a partnership in the well drilling business, finished a sixty-seven foot well for Doug. Brown on what used to be Uncle Bill Roberts' farm, near Gum Sulphur, and left him with forty feet of good cold water, and they claim to strike only the best water in all wells drilled, and are attempting to prove that by one J. R. Cass, who had a well drilled by them a few days ago. If you want that kind of water, see them.

Last week we were in Cincinnati at the time the writing should have been done and hence our letter was absent but we have returned now and are on the job and ready to give news just as it happens. So if Livingston in the future is not represented in the Signal the Editor will be to blame and not the writer. J. M. Mink is visiting his sister Mrs. Will Doan of near Crab Orchard. Miss Elizabeth Lemonds is attending school at London. O. D. Bryant was called home Saturday to Mt. Vernon on account of the illness of his sister, but later we learned she was better and Oscar was coming back to work.

I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.

A little country paper that constantly harps on politics and poking jobs at the administration in power only makes laughing stock of itself with people of common sense. It were better that such papers put their efforts toward county affairs, road building, schools etc., and leave a good portion of national affairs to be guided by men higher up who are paid for carrying on the business. This stuff, gotten off by some papers only tends to engraft a deeper rooted prejudice in the minds of some readers and does no good whatever.

American Road Congress

Regarding the public roads as an indispensable part of the transportation system of the county, supplementing its railroads and waterways, President Harrison, of the Southern Railway Company takes an active interest in the good roads movement. He is Vice-President of the American Highway Association and will be one of the speakers at the Fourth American Road Congress in Atlanta, the week of Nov. 8th.

Speaking of the relation of the country highway to the railroad, Mr. Harrison said: "Whatever may be the final destination of the farm products, their first movement must be over the country road and if the farmer is to receive the largest measure of benefit from good roads the policy should be adopted of improving those highways which radiate from market towns and shipping stations and over which the farmers must haul their products. The profit which will be earned by the farmer may depend largely upon the condition of the road from his farm to a shipping station. Statistics compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that the cost of hauling farm products to shipping points over bad roads is a disproportionately large part of the total expense of their transportation to market. This is not always fully realized by the farmer, but if he will take into account the time of himself and his team, and the wear and tear on his vehicle and harness made necessary by a larger number of trips with smaller loads, he will find that the cost mounts up very fast and correspondingly reduces his net profits. Another item of the cost of bad roads to the farmer, which is often overlooked, is that he must haul his products to markets when the roads are not in their best condition with little regard as to whether prices are favorable or whether hauling at that time interferes with work on the farm. With good roads he can not only haul heavier loads in shorter time but, except as to perishable commodities, he can market his products when prices are most favorable and can do his hauling when it is most convenient and even when the ground is too wet for work in the fields.

The manifold advantages of an improved highway in reducing the cost of drayage, facilitating social intercourse, promoting school and church attendance, expediting rural mail delivery, increasing the value of farm lands, and promoting agricultural development back from the railroads are so great that they need but to be enumerated to present a convincing argument in favor of road improvement.

"Since several years ago when the Southern Railway Company, in conjunction with the U. S. Agricultural Department and State and local authorities, operated over its lines a good roads train, carrying machinery and lecturers, and building at central points object-lesson roads, there has been very substantial progress in the good roads movement throughout the South. This was accelerated in 1911 by the operation of another good roads train in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the American Highway Association. The interest of the Southern people in good roads has been thoroughly aroused and in many localities the country highways have been highly improved and are being adequately maintained.

"I think it is fortunate for the South that the American Road Congress of 1914 is to be held in Atlanta. This will unquestionably be one of the most important gatherings ever held in the Southern States. It will bring together the official heads of the State Highway Departments, the foremost experts in road construction and maintenance, and other leaders in the good roads movement in each State for an exchange of ideas as to the best methods of financing road construction and building and maintaining the best types of country highways. Its exhibits of road machinery and of model roads will be highly educational and it can not but serve to increase interest in the good roads movement throughout the South."

THE BIG TENT.

The revival service goes steadily on.

The spectacle of beholding man and woman responding to the earnest pleading of Brother Miller ceases to be sensational. The gospel as preached by him is doing what he believes it will do. He knows it will save souls. The gospel is the power of God unto salvation, now and forever. In this faith he preached to the tent audiences, which sometimes crowd the seating capacity. People are interested and responsive.

The splendid choir of young people are an inspiration to minister and audience, and the clear mingling of childlike voices in songs of praise must be a delight to angelic choirs, and a responsive anthem of praise we may imagine ascends to a throne of grace. Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven, is beautifully illustrated in child song and child life.

As was stated last week, Mt. Vernon has not had the opportunity now offered for the saving of souls and a forward movement in christian activity. New life, new courage, renewed hope, and a brighter vision of the possibilities of united effort among our people. Lives there a man,

With soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said—

This is my own, my native—town, my home—my people, my brethren in the Lord, whom I respect? whom we want saved? It is the home of our church, the place or places where we meet to worship. Are we not enlisted in the army of the Lord? Are we not commanded To go into all the world and preach the good news to every creature?

We are beginning in Mt. Vernon to preach, teach, individually. Our lives ought to be a sermon; everyday. Every one who has named the name of the Lord, these who have taken his name upon them, who have accepted him as their savior may teach, and in living a life of consistent brotherly love, preach the gospel most effectively.

The times are auspicious, our duty is plain, the business of saving souls is eminent and urgent and may God have mercy on us if we, knowing our duty fail to do it. All of us are either for or against the work of the Lord. We are either in the service of God or mammon; we are either drawing nigh to a state of salvation or we are going farther and farther away. The Gospel invitation is calling—calling to-day—to day, and Who soever will, may come.

Many are called—all who will obey, all who will respond, will be chosen.

The tent meetings will come to a close, the nightly appeals will cease in Mt. Vernon, the preacher will go to other fields where the harvest is ripe and laborers are so few, oh! So few. Here in Mt. Vernon there is work for all, for every soul.

Enter now into the service, my brethren, my sisters. Let lawyers, merchants, editors, elders, deacons, teachers and every one to whom God has entrusted, one, two five or ten talents, put them into service, preach, pray, live for Jesus and his church.

LONDON REPORT SAYS VON KLUCK HAS SURRENDERED

Dispatch From Dieppe Says Germans Lost Many Men and Much War Material.

CROWN PRINCE IS REPULSED

Teutons Forced Back in Attempt to Break Through Lines of Allies Between Verdun and Toul—Kaiser's Forces Rally and Fight.

London, England, Sept. 16.—The occupation of Reims by the allied troops was announced by the official press bureau here.

London, Sept. 16.—A Reuter dispatch from Ostend says that 20,000 Germans have evacuated Alost in order to re-enforce the German forces that are fighting in that vicinity.

London, Sept. 16.—Hard fighting between the Germans and the allies is in progress north of the River Aisne, and all along the line.

The army of the German crown prince, making up the German center, has been driven farther back. The allies have occupied Rheims, taking 600 prisoners and capturing 12 guns.

This official information was given out today by the government press bureau.

Says Von Kluck Has Surrendered.

London, Sept. 16.—A Central News dispatch from Dieppe, France, says: "Reports have reached here that the allies' extreme left, after making an encircling movement by way of Rois and Ham, joined forces with troops from behind Boulogne and compelled General von Kluck to surrender. According to one report, General von Kluck lost 14,000 men; according to another 25,000 men. Both say he lost many guns and much war material."

By FRANKLIN P. MERRITT.

Crown Prince Is Repulsed.
Paris, Sept. 16.—The center of the German army, composed of the forces under the crown prince, has taken the offensive against the French troops, stretched along the Meuse between Verdun and Toul in an effort to break through, but has been repulsed. This information was conveyed in an official statement.

The evident intention of the crown prince is to pierce the French lines so that his army can form a junction with troops east of the Meuse.

The following is the official announcement: "The crown prince's army attempted to break through the Meuse between Verdun and Toul. He has been repulsed. The German forces were repulsed. It is believed in well informed circles that the German army will retreat into the grand duchy of Luxembourg and into the Belgian province of Luxembourg, and endeavor to rally behind their fortified positions."

By FRANKLIN P. MERRITT.

Army Under Von Kluck Rallies.
Paris, Sept. 16.—Supported by reinforcements from Belgium the right wing of the retreating German army under General von Kluck has rallied and is giving battle to the allies north of the river Aisne. Further to the east north of Rheims, the Germans are also resisting, but the retreat east of the Argonne forest is reported to be continuing. This was the situation along the front today so far as could be gathered by advices from the scene of action and government reports.

Statements issued by the French war office are confusing.

An announcement made in this city shortly before midnight said:

Germans Make Stand.
The enemy appears to make a stand along the River Aisne. On the center, similarly, it would seem as if the enemy intends to resist on the heights to the northwest and north of Rheims.

Another official statement, issued one hour earlier in Bordeaux, said:

"On our left the enemy appeared to the north of the Aisne, between Compiègne and Soissons, a line of defense which he has been forced to abandon. In the center, likewise, the Germans had prepared a defensive position behind Rheims, which they were unable to hold."

The significance of this discrepancy is that the statement announcing a German stand was the later one issued.

An unofficial report to the effect that Maubeuge had been relieved and 12,000 Germans had been taken prisoners there was in circulation here, but lacked confirmation. Such a development at Maubeuge would compel the Germans to retire through the narrow gap flanked by Maubeuge and Verdun, if they continued their retreat.

NOTE—It had been officially announced by the German government in Berlin last week that Maubeuge had been captured from the French and that 40,000 prisoners and a large number of guns had fallen into the hands of the Germans.

Too Early to Claim Big Victory.
While official reports are optimistic

DIARRHOEA QUICKLY CURED

beyond doubt it is too early to claim decisive and overwhelming victory to the allies. By masterly strategy the Germans have been able to keep the main lines of their vast army intact although thousands of soldiers over come by exhaustion or unable to find their way have fallen into the hands of the French and British armies, as well as a vast amount of munitions supplies and armaments. The German army is far from shattered, and according to official admissions in Paris, the only section of the German grand army which now seems to be in danger of being cut off from the other columns is that of the German crown prince, which is in the region of the forest of Argonne. Because of the rugged nature of the country in that district and the stubborn resistance of the crown prince's soldiers this section was left farther in front than the balance of the German line.

The army of General von Kluck is also supposed to have received a supply of fresh ammunition for both small arms and artillery.

The extreme left wing of the French army, which is officially known as the Fifty army, has now advanced to a point slightly northeast of Amiens the main body resting around that city. It has been part of General Joffre's strategy to keep this army moving east and north as rapidly as possible to keep hitting at the northwestern extremity of the German line.

From the information received by the French general staff it is evident that the Germans have either fled back into trenches which had been used previously north of the Aisne or else had been able to prepare defensive works from which to face the allies.

By FREDERICK WERNER.

Drive French From Alsace.
Berlin, via Copenhagen, Sept. 16.—It was officially announced here that General von Heeringen, taking the offensive in Alsace, has driven the French out of that region, forcing them westward through the passes of the Vosges. Fighting is still going on northwest of Altkirch, north of Belfort and around Girmangny.

It is learned that, after the surrender of Longwy, the German crown prince had an interview with the French commander, during which the latter tendered his sword in token of defeat. The crown prince was furious, but he had been informed that the French had used dum dum bullets contrary to the rules of war. His face was flushed with wrath as he grasped the sword and, contrary to all military custom, broke it over his knee.

"I must take your sword but you fought us dishonorably," said the German commander angrily. "Your soldiers used dum dum bullets against us."

The French commander denied that his troops had used soft-nosed bullets but the German soldiers are reported to have found some of these bullets among the munitions of the fort.

By BURTON L. FRAZIER.

Claim Berlin Is Gloomy.
London, Sept. 16.—Dispatches from Copenhagen and Geneva declare that gloom prevails in Berlin and that a serious condition is developing in the German capital.

A Copenhagen dispatch to the Star says:

"Attempts of German officials to hide the truth about the war have proved futile. The real facts are penetrating Berlin from Switzerland and Southern Germany. Absence of detailed news is creating a panic."

"The Socialist paper Vorwarts complains that the ranks of German unemployed are increasing owing to the French and British prisoners being used as railway, road and field workers. It states that 100,000 Germans have thus been ousted by prisoners working as government laborers at various kinds of outdoor work."

From Geneva comes this dispatch: "After several days silence, which has aroused anger in Berlin, no mention is yet made of the battle of the Marne. Serious demonstrations continue in Germany, the people insisting on knowing the truth from the Kaiser himself, who has suddenly become silent."

TAX ON "SECRET REMEDIES"
Dr. Wiley Says They Are Sold at Enormous Prices, and If Taxed, Would Bring Big Revenue.

Washington, Sept. 16.—"Secret remedies" should be made the subject of a heavy tax, in the opinion of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief chemist of the department of agriculture. Underwood suggesting the tax, Dr. Wiley declared these so-called remedies are sold at enormous prices, and if taxed, would bring in a big revenue. "This very extensive self-medication is a threat to the health and welfare of the people of the whole country," the doctor added. Doctor Wiley also favors an additional tax of from 25 to 50 per cent per gallon on all rectified spirits used for beverages. Soft drinks, especially those containing caffeine, and fortified wines should be heavily taxed, he believes. He especially is anxious to have taxed mills manufacturing bleached flour, and he believes the bleaching process dangerous to health.

Suicide Preferable to Retreat.
Bordeaux, Sept. 16.—According to a report received at the war office, General Freiz, a German division commander, attempted to commit suicide when ordered to retreat, but was taken prisoner.

In Europe, except England, all of the military units are planned to contain twice as many men as similar units in the American and English armies. The German, Russian, French and Austrian is identical. Each regiment is made up of 3330 men and is commanded by a Colonel. Three regiments of 10,000 men, make up a brigade, which body is commanded by a Major General. Two brigades of 20,000 men, make an army division with a Lieutenant General in charge, while two divisions, or 40,000 men constituted an army corps commanded by a General. Five army corps is supposed to make one army.

He is comfortably located with up-to-date offices in Louisville and on the special advertising sheet soon to be issued by the Travelers Insurance Co., his picture will appear as one of the best and biggest writers representing that company.

The 44th annual session of the Rockcastle Missionary Baptist Association which met at Freedom church last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday was an enjoyable affair. The first day was devoted entirely to Sunday school work. Talks, relative to the work, were given by Revs. Pike, Carmical, Allen, Gooch, Fish and Price. The latter is Field Sec'y. of the Sunday School department of the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky. He gave some fine talks on the "Graded Sunday School", together with the talks, the singing by Freedom, Union and Brodhead schools, and the big dinner on the ground, the day was a pleasant one although the weather was a little autumn-like and gloomy.

The Sunday School convention, which is a part of the associational work, has, for more than 20 years been held on the first day of the association, thus causing the association to consume three days. This always has made it hard on the ladies in cooking and entertaining and it was unanimously decided that this convention be held on a day by itself and May 30th, 1915 selected as the day. Place not yet named, but there will henceforth only be two days of the association, proper which will be Tuesday and Wednesday after the first Sunday in Sept. next.

The old officers of the association were re-elected viz. A. J. Pike, Moderator; J. J. Painter, Clerk; J. W. Helton, R. L. Smith, and Wm. Hurst, Executive Board. R. N. Gooch, Pres., of S. S. Convention. J. J. Painter, Secretary. Also a Sunday School committee of three was appointed viz. I. P. E. Drummond of Livingston, J. T. Meadows of Mt. Vernon and Byron Owens of Brodhead. It will be their duty to look after the organizing of Sunday Schools in churches where there are none.

H. C. Gentry was the only member of the association present who was in its organization in 1870.

The next meeting will be held with Mt. Zion (Oak Hill) church in 1915.

Children Cry
CASTORIA

The Louisville Herald of 15th in its State Fair items says:

The Girls' Canning Club exhibit under the direction of Mrs. Helen Wolcott, is particularly novel and interesting. Owing to the fact that the girls competing for prizes have had the freight paid on their entries they have sent only the most perfect samples. Jars of peaches, beautifully packed, beans, corn, cherries, ochre—all manner of vegetables and fruits—are displayed on the shelves, causing the eyes of bystanders to open and their mouths to water.

The packing of these jars has been done by hand with only the aid of the long spatula, made by the boys of the settlement school at Hindman. The regularity, however, with which the fruit has been put in suggests the mechanical in almost every case. Mrs. Wolcott states that the girls who do the packing in this manner are able to get one and one-half times as much fruit in a jar as when it is put in the ordinary manner.

Members of the canning clubs who have won prizes in their own counties have been sent to Louisville and are now being entertained by the State Fair Committee. These young girls are: Miss Rose Payne, of Davis County; Miss Mary Lovelless, of Laurel; Miss Madge Maldon, of Whitley; Miss Estelle Vandermeer, of Mercer; Miss Ruth Landrum, of Rockcastle; Miss Eva Robinson, of Christian; Miss Mary Tribell of Madison; Miss Frony Connaway, of Henderson; Miss Maud Maurier, of Jefferson; Miss Maggie May of Magoffin; Miss Bertha Bailey, of Harlan, and Miss Kiddinger, of Muhlenberg.

GERMANS DEFEAT RUSSIAN ARMIES IN EAST PRUSSIA

Teuton Commander Wires Kaiser of Rout of Army of 175,000 Men.

RUSS CASUALTIES ARE HEAVY

Another Body of the Czar's Troops,
60,000 Strong, Are Whipped at Lyck
Many Prisoners Are Taken—Battle Still On.

By FREDERICK WERNER.
Berlin, Sept. 16.—(By wire via Sayville, N. P.)—General Hindenberg (the German commander in East Prussia) has telegraphed Emperor William that the Vilna (Russian) army, consisting of the Second, Third, Fourth and Twentieth corps, two reserve divisions and five cavalry divisions, have been completely defeated. The Russian casualties are heavy. The number of prisoners is increasing and the destruction of the army continues. Enormous spoils of war have been captured.

The Grodno army has been defeated at Lyck. It comprised in addition to the Twenty-second corps a remnant of the Sixth corps and part of the Third Siberian corps.

(As an army corps consists of 40,000 men, it is probable that in the Vilna army there were at least 175,000 soldiers, and in the Grodno army about 50,000 men.)

Headquarters announces that the heavy fighting in France is still indecisive, although the French assault has been repulsed.

By FRANCIS LAVELLE MURRAY.

Russians Claim German Defeat.

Petrograd, Sept. 16.—It was officially announced that General Pennekamp had defeated the Germans in a ten hour battle in East Prussia and driven them back toward Koenigsberg with heavy losses.

The battle took place near Goldapp (80 miles east southeast of Koenigsberg) and was fiercely contested.

The official statement follows: "After a steady withdrawal for several days before superior forces of the Germans, the Russians receiving heavy reinforcements and drove the enemy back. Reforming, they again took the offensive and attacked our positions at Goldapp. They stormed our positions with bayonet charges in the face of a withering fire, but were repeatedly repulsed."

"Finally, after a bloody conflict that lasted ten hours, the enemy retreated. Our troops are in hot pursuit. The victory was due to the clever strategy of General Rennenkampf, who drew the enemy's troops out until they were too weak to overcome us."

Austrians in Dire Straits.
Sweeping across the Vistula river and striking at the rear of the Austrian army struggling to save itself from annihilation, Russian troops have destroyed a large part of the commissary supplies of the enemy, according to an official announcement made here today. The Russians are threatening the entire line of communication of the Austrians and may succeed in preventing them from retreat.

By their sudden stroke directed from Russian Poland over the Vistula, the Russians have compelled the Austrians who had fortified positions, to fall back, being outflanked. The Russians are now crossing the San in force, capturing many guns and prisoners.

The destruction of the Austrian supplies was one of the most heroic exploits yet accomplished by the Russian troops. A company of cossack scouts swam the Vistula under the cover of darkness and succeeded in making their way along its banks to the neighborhood of the general headquarters.

Scouts had learned the location of the Austrian supplies, which had been brought from Cracow by boat. The cossacks were able to move directly to the scene. The guards stationed at the boats were quickly dispatched and then the destruction began.

Supplies Are Destroyed.

The cossacks blew up or set fire to 2 steamboats, 17 pontoons, 18 barges and a large number of smaller boats and rafts. The greater part of the supplies had not yet been unloaded, but the cossacks completed their task by burning all the military equipment that they could find ashore.

Having accomplished their task the cossacks again swam the river and rejoined the Russian army. They lost only five men in the daring raid.

The blow struck at the Austrians by the cossacks is expected to have tremendous effect.

Among the supplies destroyed was a great quantity of ammunition as well as food.

As fast as the Russian army advances into Galicia it repairs the railroads and uses them for military purposes. In railroad construction work alone 40,000 Russians are employed. As fast as the lines are put into operation the guns captured from the Austrians are taken into the new battle front and there turned against their former possessors.

General Ruzski has reported to the war office that among the troops retiring upon Przemska are about 55,000 Germans who were sent to help the Austrians. He declares that they will be unable to take active part in the fighting after entering Przemska, as he will completely invest that strong hold and prevent any sortie.

Austrians Claim Lemberg Victory.
New York, Sept. 16.—Dr. Fritz Fischerauer, Austrian consul, received the following wireless message from Count Berchtold, the Austrian minister of foreign affairs:

"The battle at Lemberg was successful. Our forces, which were placed along and south of the Grodek road, beat back the enemy after five days' fighting and captured 10,000 Russians and numerous guns, but it was impossible to make full use of the success because our northern wing near Rawa was endangered by overwhelming Russian forces, not to speak of new Russian forces marching against General Dankl's army and into the interval between this army and the Lemberg war theater."

"On account of the strength of the enemy it was found necessary to collect our armies, now fighting with little rest heroically for three days, into a favorable position and prepared them for new action."

Announcement is made by the Queen & Crescent Route that Trains 21 and 22, now operated between Oneida, Tenn., and Somerset, Ky., will be extended, effective Sunday, September 16th, 1914, and operated daily between Oneida, Tenn., and Lexington, Ky. The performance of this new service add seventy-nine train miles each way, or one hundred and fifty-eight additional miles for the round trip. At the present time when the expense of commodities required in the operation and maintenance of railroads is at its highest and most carriers are curtailing, rather than extending, their facilities, this new service afforded by the Queen & Crescent Route is worthy of the greatest attention and patronage on the part of the traveling public.

By using Train 22 passengers can arrive Danville before 9 a. m. and Lexington before 10:30 a. m.; transact their business and return on No. 21 in the afternoon, arriving home before bed time.

Local travel between Somerset and Danville and to and from intermediate points will be particularly benefited by this new arrangement, as there will now be two local trains each way daily between those points, making all stops, instead of the train as heretofore.
